Prologue

*"Yet the true poetry, herself, like thee,
Childlike, herself, like thee, a shepherd maid
Gives thee her birthright of Divinity,
And lifts unto the stars thy starry shade.
Thy brows receive the aureole of the sky;
The Heart created thee—thou canst not die."*

— Schiller "MAID OF ORLEANS"

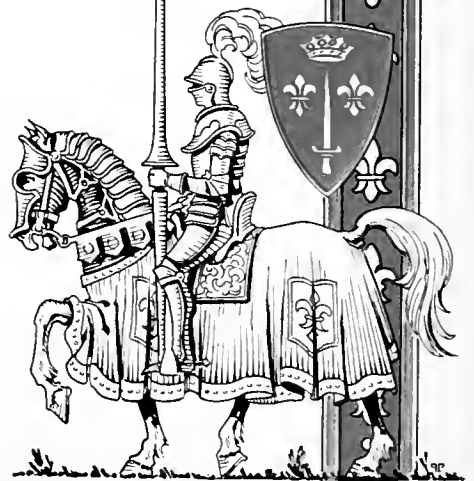

Sweet and resonant, from out of the ever coursing stream of history, there comes echoing and re-echoing the soft clarion call of our immortal Maid of Orleans. She is no archaic figure; she is no forgotten symbol of ages gone, of ages dulled beneath the aura of a lover, more appealing present. She is the eternal eidolan of youth, the spirit of faith, of purity, of undaunted ever advancing progress. Joan of Arc, the little peasant girl; Joan of Arc, the Savior of France! How incongruous, seemingly. And yet, what exquisite patterns have been woven out of obscurity!

In the life of this maid, in her all-embracing love of country, of ideals, and of the divine essence of things, she embodies the hallowed ritual of youthful hopes. She has set for us the sublime standard; she has bequeathed to the ages of all time a heritage based on those things sacred and quintessential.

To us, the members of the Senior Class, has come the desire to express the spirit of Flora Macdonald, our love of Alma Mater, our devoted adherence to the principles of life and beauty, and our sincere belief in the faith and strength of youth. It has not been an easy task. The pen is too impotent, too immature for such a mammoth undertaking. Therefore, we have chosen for the theme of our yearbook the commemoration of one who, in life and death, exemplified in a more articulate way the very virtues which we would express. If this portrayal should, in the tomorrows of the future, serve to strengthen the bonds which grapple us to our Alma Mater; if it should, in some slight way, enable us to live over once more in reverie the sweetness of these friendships which so benignly bloom today, we shall not have labored vainly.

Dedication

To
Henry G. Bedinger
Because of the genuineness of his character, and loyalty to high ideals,
Because of his labor for the culture of the mind and spirit, and the love the students bear him
this volume of The White
Heather is dedicated.

Dependability—That just says Kent. When she says she'll do a thing it's as good as done. We always think of Kent's talent in music, but, "Bent," you will linger in the hearts of your classmates long after the melody of your music has died. Here's to your success and happiness always.

"Modesty is a diamond setting for female beauty."

*"Who loves the rain,
And loves his home,
And looks on life with quiet eyes,
Him will I follow through the storm."*

The Jewel in our midst is Bertha. Although quiet and unassuming she impresses one instantly with her rare blond beauty and friendly ways. There are many things we could say but we'll just wish her the best of luck in everything.

She is so unassuming, quiet and frail to the observer, but to those who know her she is a pillar of strength. Calm and tranquil, deep as a smooth flowing stream, she is a benediction to all whose lives she enters, and her path of life is a way of peace.

*"A maid—That paragons description and wild fame;
One that excels the quirks of blazoning pens
And in the essential vesture of creation
Does bear all excellency."*

That has truly been Janie Margaret's motto and that's why everyone who knows her loves her. There is never a favor too little or too big for her to do. No obstacles in the world can defeat such a fighting spirit as hers on the athletic field.

Old '32 just wouldn't be the same without Eunice. As president of the class she has guided our barge with ability and enthusiasm. Besides this, we will think of her not only as Queen of May, but of Hearts.

To understand Anna's real self one must hear her play one of Beethoven's Sonatas or a Chopin Etude, or read one of her own poems, for there you delve down past the surface and see the beauty, the music and poetry of her. And, Anna, may your fondest dreams of your old English home and your Pipe be realized.

So modest, with such sweetness and purity of soul, gentle yet capable and brainy! Surely the youth whom she teaches will leave her tutelage with higher ideals, stronger in faith and nobility.

Not only possessor of esthetic qualities but strength of mind and will to triumph over the physical. With these gifts life will surely be rich in joy and all that make living sweet and enjoyable.

This is true, words are so inadequate to describe Clara. How so much intelligence, wit, humor, and originality, and at the same time thoughtfulness and unselfishness can be bound up in so small a person as Clara will always be a mystery. To merely wish that you'll be as successful in your future work as you were with the Senior Tea Room is to wish you Success.

FLORA MACDONALD COLLEGE

RED SPRINGS, N. C.

FACTS

Graduates are securing positions everywhere, and are earning excellent salaries.

Four thousand alumnae are engaged in 60 different occupations.

Fifty-one branches of Alumnae Associations have been organized: 41 in North Carolina, 8 in South Carolina, one in New York, and one in Washington, D. C.

Ten F. M. C. girls are in mission fields: China, Japan, Africa, and Mexico.

AIMS

To be rated not by the number of students, but according to the class of work done.

To make the College an institution for teaching how to take part in the world's activities and the joy of service.

To declare emphatically for development of Christian character through the study of God's Word.

THE NORTH CAROLINA STATE BOARD OF EDUCATION HAS GRANTED TO FLORA MACDONALD A STANDARD
"A" RATING

“Unusual Excellence is Never the Result of Chance”

In producing school publications, we endeavor to render a helpful and constructive service directed toward enabling a student staff to issue a representative and distinctive publication.

In connection with our new and modern printing plant we maintain a large Art and Service Department where page balance, typography and complete decorative and illustrative motifs are created and worked out.
